The booths were made attractive by their flowers and decorations, and the various useful and ornamental articles offered for sale. The following programme will be presented this evening, the special attraction being the Spanish dances to be performed:

FROM TOPOLOBAMPO.

MR. CADY OF SEATTLE TELLS HIS STORY.

Sufferings of Colonists—The Promise of Three Dollars Per Day Wages Denounced as a Fraud—Distracted Mrs. Hallin.

[San Francisco Chronicle.]

SEATTLE (W. T.), June 11.—Quite a number of persons joined the Topolobampo colony from this city and section last fall. For a time all appeared to go on swimmingly, but after a while rumors were heard that everything was not just as had been represented. These rumors were suppressed as much as possible, or denied by those who were trying to induce people to join the colony from this country. Nothing definite had been learned as to the true situation of affairs until the arrival, on Tuesday last, of F. G. Cady. He was seen today, and the Times publishes the following:

Hearing of the return of F. G. Cady to Seattle from the Mexican colony, and knowing that whatever Mr. Cady said about the place could be relied upon, a Times reporter started out to find him and get an account of his experience since he left Seattle last December. This gentleman is well-known as a go-ahead, energetic, far-seeing citizen.

The reporter asked: "Have you seen the letters published from Mr. Patrick stating that the colony was all that was claimed for it and that all former Seattleites were contented and satisfied with their lot?"

"No," said Mr. Cady, "I have not seen the papers, but from what I have heard of them I must pronounce them in the main false. It would soften the heart of the hardest criminal to see poor Mrs. Hallin walking up and down on the bare ground in her tent, lamenting her condition and praying to God to assist her to get back to Seattle. It will be remembered that Mrs. Hallin lost one of her children at the colony. The child was teething and died from exposure. When we were about to depart from Topolobampo Mr. Hallin deemed it prudent to take his wife some eight miles to where we got our water, that she would not be present at our leaving, as he feared that the scene would be more than this poor broken-hearted wife could stand. Hallin tried to dispose of his rifle and a sewing machine, and raise money to enable his wife and boy to leave at the same time, but could not. They had also written to friends at Tacoma and up the Skagit River for money.

"Messrs. Patrick and Erp appear to like the place, at least they pretend to. As for Mrs. Patrick and Mrs. Erp, they differ from their husbands, and curse the day they ever went to Topolobampo, and would return also if they had the means with which to do so.

"We left Seattle the 26th day of November last, and did not arrive at our destination until December 20th. Upon our arrival we found no shelter, after being assured there was ample shelter for us. Thanks to a careful wife, I found some fifteen yards of sheeting, which we used to cover our heads at night, and protect us from the heavy dew.

"The colonists have commenced the erection of a storehouse 100 feet square and one story high, with three-foot walls. The corridor and driveway in the side of the building have cost already between $7000 and $15,000 in credits, and are not finished yet, nor will they be finished before the rainy season starts, for want of money.

"The steamer Newbern does not touch at that point now, the trade not being a sufficient inducement. There are but two and a half fathoms of water on the bar.

"The first sickness that appeared was measles, from which there was one death. This was soon followed by that dread disease, smallpox. There were fourteen cases and four deaths. The pesthouse was established within fifty yards of our tents.

"The first death was a young boy, whose body was taken out into the bay and a rope, with a stone attached to the end, tied round the body. The sharks devoured what was once the pride and joy of a happy household. At this barbarous proceeding, the Mexican authorities entered a protest, and would not allow any more such burials. The bodies of the other three unfortunates were taken across the bay and given decent burial at the foot of Mt. Joshua.

"Dr. Shellhouse, one of the directors of the colony, is at the present time in California lecturing to raise funds on bonds for building thirty-five miles of railroad to Fuerte River."

Mr. Cady says the thought that workmen were receiving $3 per day for labor induced many to go there, thinking that if they did not like the place they would soon have money enough to take them away, but the exorbitant rates the directors put upon the necessaries of life more than offset the liberal allowance for wages. For instance, their washing was all done in the laundry and charged at the rate of $2 per dozen. Other things are charged in the same ratio.

Mr. Patrick worked steady for three months, and at the end of that time came out in debt to the Credit Foncier Company. During the three month the family washing bill footed over $100.

By the action of the board of directors, under date of March 24, 1887, "the $3 wage heretofore and now allowed is fixed upon as a basis for exchange of services, and not as an obligation to pay coin of the United States or Mexico on demand."

The prospectus and pamphlets issued for the information of intending colonists show that workmen are allowed $3 per day. This leaves them under the impression that should they desire to leave, all that would be necessary is to demand it and they would receive it. Instead of receiving pay, as they supposed they would, their attention was called to the above note, written on the back of the statement, which is convincing proof that the $3 per day clause is a fraud.

Mr. Cady experienced great difficulty in securing accommodations to get back, having left on the 25th day of April, and only arriving in Seattle last Tuesday morning.

SHOT WITH A RAIL.

Singular Railroad Accident Near Cucamonga.

[Pomona Times-Courier.]

Just as we go to press we learn of an accident on the Southern Pacific Railroad to freight train No. 30, which is just in from the East. A short distance the other side of Cucamonga, while running at the rate of twenty miles an hour, an iron rail, which had been left too near the road by the section hands, suddenly shot up through the floor of the caboose, demolishing the chair upon which Conductor O'Leary was sitting, smashing the desk at which he was writing, went through the side of the car over the door, and clear through the roof of the car. A ball, shot from a monster cannon could hardly have done greater execution. The large timbers of the floor and ceiling were twisted and splintered into pieces, and Conductor O'Leary so badly hurt he was compelled to leave the train at Cucamonga. It is hard to get at the facts of the case in time for this issue, and to us there is some mystery connected with the path of the projectile. The engine and all the box and flat cars passed over without encountering the rail. It struck the caboose beneath the tool chest, and, instead of shooting backward, as would be the natural course, it shot through the car, coming out over the front door.

A NEW BOOK.

Stevens's "Around the World on a Bicycle.

[San Francisco Bulletin.]

The conception of a trip around the globe on a bicycle originated in San Francisco in the mind of Thomas Stevens, the author of a volume bearing the above title, and describing so much of the trip as is represented in the territory lying eastward between San Francisco and Teheran. The trip was started April 22, 1884, from Oakland, in the presence of a number of enthusiastic Oakland and San Francisco bicyclers who had assembled to give Stevens a good "send-off." The volume is naturally made up of personal experiences and adventures, with fragments here and there descriptive of the country traversed and the people inhabiting it. From New York the trip around the world was continued under the auspices of Outing, a magazine owned at that time by the Pope Manufacturing Company, which magazine he served as a special correspondent throughout the tour. Readers of that magazine will be quite familiar with the text and illustrations appearing in the volume under review, for both have been published in its pages. From New York Stevens went to Liverpool, and rode along the English highways, thence to London, being escorted out of the former city by a delegation of wheelmen and receiving similar courtesies in cities and towns on the way. France, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Slavonia, Servia, Bulgaria, Roumelia and Turkey are traversed in turn. Asia is then entered, and the latter half of the volume describes the experiences of the bicycler in Asia Minor and Persia, and more particularly in the latter. This will, no doubt, prove the most interesting part of the volume to the average reader, for his novel means of travel made the author a notable personage, subjecting him to many trying inquisitions and extraordinary experiences, and leading to some remarkable acquaintanceships. We find him hobnobbing with Princes and other Oriental potentates; and for the sake of gaining a coveted point or working his way into the good graces of some important and influential personage, he is sometimes guilty of adopting the vicious Oriental habit of lying.

The trip through these Asiatic countries is not altogether pleasant, notwithstanding he is most of the time the guest and under the special patronage of their rulers and nobility. These countries are infested by robbers and brigands, and Stevens has more than one experience with them. On one occasion, at least, he had to use his revolver in self-defense.

At Teheran he is temporarily the guest of the Shah. In his own language he says: "I am as much the Shah's toy and plaything of the moment, as an electric light, a stop-watch, or as the big Krupp gun;" but that does not prevent the Shah from showing him much attention, exhibiting to him his menagerie, and escorting him with a company of two hundred troops from Teheran to Dohan Tepe.

The volume leaves the author still in Teheran. It is presumed that the next volume will carry Mr. Stevens down to the close of his extraordinary and unparalleled feat. But we rise from the perusal of this volume, highly interesting as it is, with quite as much surprise at the narrowness of the bicycler's range of vision, as there is of wonderment at the nature and magnitude of his achievement on the wheel. Simmered down, it is simply a record of personal experiences and adventures under rather singular conditions; in other words the itineracy of a bicycler on a trip embracing over one-half of the globe and a score or more of different peoples and countries. It is profusely illustrated.

LAND FRAUDS.

ROSS & COTTON,
35 South Spring Street

Are locating many settlers and intending settlers, under the Public land laws, on fine, level GOVERNMENT LAND, with deep, rich soil, plenty of fuel and near railroad. With a Surveyor on the ground, we resurvey these lands and find the old Government Stakes. We make railroad excursion to these lands, taking provisions, tents, etc., stay over night, and Point Out the Corners. We have full, accurate maps, plats, etc., corrected from the United States Land Office Records the last day before starting. Our excursions do not return the same day of starting, for the reason that no man can show Government Stakes and pass over these lands in so short a time. We do not locate parties on land numbers covering lands many miles away from lands shown, but, in every instance, we guarantee the entries to be EXACTLY the same lands shown. Our next EXCURSION will leave THURSDAY, JUNE 16, 1887, at 7 a.m.

All wishing to go must arrange with us by not later than Wednesday morning. We challenge the closest investigation and guarantee satisfaction.

WHAT IS VOLAPÜK?

A LANGUAGE WITHOUT A NATIONALITY—THE FUTURE SPEECH.

A Correspondent Writes Enthusiastically About the Invention of the Rev. Father Johann Martin Schleyer, of Constance, Baden, Germany.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, June 1.

Another language born. Were there not enough already? Ever since the Tower of Babel diversity of tongues has divided and confused the dwellers of the earth. There were too many, and now there is one more. Go to!

But there has been no international language. The more strongly national the less fitted for use by strangers. For that purpose something different is needed; a mechanism, rather than a growth. When we build a steam engine or a ship, we do not follow the capricious forms which the environment has produced in the tree. So, when we need a language for those whose mother tongues are unlike, it must be one of perfect regularity, simplicity and straightforwardness, avoiding all that is local or eccentric or perverse.

The new language, "Volapük," is only seven years old. Being a mechanism, not a growth, is the product of one man's brain. A Catholic priest, pastor of a little parish on the German side of the Lake of Constance, yet a poet and a linguist, had the great thought for years shadowed in his mind, until, as he says, "one sleepless night the whole framework of the universal language flashed out before me." Johann Martin Schleyer is now known to thousands as the inventor of Volapük, the only attempted universal language which has ever had the least chance of life.

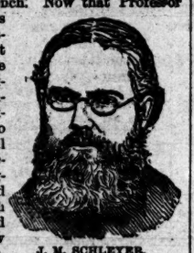
* * *

There have been previous attempts, and later attempts, at constructing universal languages, but they have all fallen flat. Up to the present time the world has not been ripe for them. The very idea of internationality, of world citizenship, is a modern one. The ocean steamer, the cable, the postal union, the daily newspaper, all these instrumentalities make international speech possible and give it an excuse for existence.

Nor has any other project for international speech so closely struck the golden mean of common sense. The others have usually been based upon too abstract a classification of ideas and have discarded the experience of existing languages. But Father Schleyer has reasoned thus: In the study of many languages we certainly perceive defects and points of superiority. Each language has forms of expression which are clear, simple and direct, and has other forms which are unnatural, clumsy and difficult to learn. Why not, then, select the good and reject the bad? This is what Schleyer has aimed to do, as we shall see hereafter.

The result is that Volapük has been rapidly gaining adherents in Europe until they are numbered by the thousands, and the societies devoted to its spread by the hundreds. There are three periodicals published entirely in Volapük, besides others in Volapük and German, Volapük and French, Volapük and Spanish, Volapük and Danish, Volapük and Italian, Volapük and Dutch. Volapük Champagne is a new brand; there is Volapük music, Volapük songs, Volapük beer glasses and Volapük badges, bearing the Volapük symbol, the globe crossed by the caduceus of Mercury with the motto "Menad Bal, Pük Bal," or "One Humanity, one Language."

Until recently there have been no suitable text books for the use of English speaking persons who wish to learn the new language. The few in England and America who have studied it have done so through the medium of German or French. Now that Professor Dornbusch has published a translation (in excellent English) from the French of Kerckhoffs' shorter grammar we may expect many more to take it up. It will still need a full dictionary with English definitions, and a text book which can be understood by those who know English grammar, but have no knowledge of the classical or modern languages.



J. M. SCHLEYER.

It must be distinctly stated that Volapük will not in any degree supersede any existing language. It will ultimately be studied by every educated person next after his own mother tongue. National tongues for national use, but Volapük for intercourse between nations. The real growth of the Volapük idea will not be attained until it is studied in the higher classes of all schools, and is considered as indispensable as arithmetic or geography.

The new language is remarkably easy to learn from the fact that it is perfectly regular. Every one who has studied foreign languages knows that the rules are few and easy, while the real difficulty lies in the exceptions. In Volapük there are no exceptions. All its grammatical forms can be learned in an hour, and then with the aid of a dictionary anything written in it can be deciphered. In learning to write or speak the great danger is of carrying with you the idioms of your own language in translating word for word. Thus, such an expression as "a great many" would evidently be inadmissable: it must be rendered "very many," which is what we really mean by it.

* * *

Let us take a few rambling glances at Volapük words and expressions to form an idea of how simple and natural and easily remembered they are.

Let us begin with the name Volapük. It is pronounced in three syllables with the accent on the last. This is an invariable rule; all words are accented on the last syllable, and it is an excellent rule, for the hearer thus knows just where the word ends. The greatest difficulty for a person trying to understand a foreign language fluently spoken is that there seems to be no separation between the words; it sounds like "all one long word." The o is sounded as in "go," the a as in "father," and the dotted ü as in German or like the French u. Now the meaning of the word is "World's-speech" or "The Language of the World." It is a compound word, and its elements are völ, world, and pük, speech, connected by the vowel a, which is the sign of the possessive case, or, as it is called, "Kimafal," "the whose-case." Kim (pronounced keem) means who? and the cases are four: Kimfal, Kimafal, Kimefal, Kimifal: deriving their names from the forms.

Kim, who? Kima, whose? of whom? Kime, to whom? Kimi, whom.

The kimfal is the answer to the question "Who?" It is, therefore, the nominative case or the subject. It is the simple root form without vowel ending. The other cases end in the three vowels, a, e, i, in regular order. Everybody knows the vowels, therefore our reader now knows how to decline any noun or pronoun in the world speech, if he will further remember that the plural is always formed by adding s to the singular. Let us try it with the pronoun of, she.

Of, ofa, ofe, ofi.
Ofs, ofas, ofes, ofis.

The following sentence contains all the cases:

Flen tidelà esedòm penedl regè.

The teacher's friend has sent a letter to the king.

It will be noticed that there are no articles. Flen means friend, or a friend, or the friend. It is found by actual experience that the articles are unnecessary; in fact, many consider them superfluous in English, as may be tested by reading a newspaper article, selected at random, omitting all "the's." A few questions and answers will further impress the relation of the cases with the letter fegetivon kim, kima, kimi, kimi.

A VOLAPÜK AUTOGRAPH.

Kim esedom penedl? Who has sent the letter?

Flen esedom omi. A friend has sent it.

Kima flen esedom omi? Whose friend has sent it?

Flen tidela. The teacher's friend.

Kime esedom omi? To whom has he sent it?

Rege. To the king.

Kimi esedom rege? What (objective) has he sent to the king?

Esedom penedl. He has sent the letter.

Had we more space we might easily evolve from these phrases all the laws of Volapük grammar. We can give a suggestion of how verbs change their persons by intimating that, as ob means I; ol, thou (or you addressed to one person); obs, we; ols, you (plural); so esedob signifies in one word, I have sent; esedols, we have sent; esedoms, they have sent. When we state that esedom means he had sent; esedom, he will send; esedom, he will have sent, the reader may make a guess that the vowel at the beginning of a verb determines its tense, while the indications of person and number are at the end. When he studies the grammar more thoroughly he will find that the tense vowels are a series, in regular order, which makes it impossible to forget them:

a, ä, e, i, o, u.

In the passive, pa, pä, pe, pi, po, pu.

For example, patidos, it is taught; pätidos, it was taught; petidos, it has been taught; pitidos, it had been taught; potidos, it will be taught; putidos, it will have been taught.

The power of compounding words and forming derivatives is almost unlimited. The vocabulary is capable of expansion to meet any requirements of the future.

You now know what Volapük is. The next question undoubtedly will be, and ought to be, "What is its use?"

Its use will be mostly for written correspondence. As a spoken language it will have but a limited currency. In commercial and other business correspondence it will first come into general use, and this will always be its widest, though perhaps not its highest sphere. It will next be applied to scientific compositions. Science knows no national boundaries, and authors will soon appreciate the advantage of a world wide audience. International treaties and conventions will be drawn up in Volapük, which will become the language of diplomacy, enabling both parties to stand on an equal footing. Works of purely literary and imaginative character will continue to be written in national language, although occasionally they may be translated into Volapük.

Volapükatidel.

THE DIGGER INDIANS.

A Hunter's Experience With Them. Their Peculiar Traits.

[Special Correspondence.]

CHICAGO, June 1.

In the rotunda of the Sherman house the other evening a veteran Rocky mountain hunter was entertaining a group of commercial men with stories of adventures on the plains and mountain fastnesses. "By the way, boys, did you ever hear tell of the Digger Indians? Well, this is how I 'dropped onto' 'em. It was only a month or two ago; I had wounded a tough and rather lively grizzly near the foot hills, and he was sneaking off at a pretty lively rate over the plains. I started in full pursuit, calculating that another shot at close range would fetch the critter, when, jumping upon one of the many curious hillocks that centered at one point, I seemed to be tumbling through a huge inverted basket, and all of a sudden found myself doubled up in a heap in a pit about six feet deep, describing a circle of perhaps seven feet, surrounded by a tribe of three dirty Indian squaws, scantily clothed, four naked children and an old Indian brave, sans war paint and any exterior ornaments or clothing other than a leather girth, to which was attached a rude hatchet and a pipe. The inhabitants of the subterranean abode were clearly taken by surprise, and the women and children screamed and shouted like so many Comanches on the warpath. The old Indian shook his head with displeasure, made a pretense of grasping his tomahawk, and pronounced a short Indian oration in deep guttural tones. I extemporized eloquent gestures indicating my deep chagrin at the situation in which I very unexpectedly found myself, pointed to barked shins and bruised arms, and with my eyes firmly fixed upon the optics of the Indian, laid hold of a sort of rope ladder connecting with the opening above, and crawled up sideways, crab fashion, my face turned the while to the occupants of the pit, and nimbly leaped through the opening. I quickly perceived that I was in the very heart of a subterranean Digger Indian village, for on all sides the basket like coverings of the pits were being removed, and the occupants, old and young, great and small, clad in all degrees of undress and filthiness, formed in family groups about their respective homes or lodges. There were in the village perhaps thirty lodges, in the center of an immense plain, a mile or so from the bottom of the foot hills, on a small rise of ground. The huts or pits were scattered about irregularly and indiscriminately, and not in the order which usually characterizes the lodges of Indian villages. They were simply pits or holes dug into the earth, from four to seven feet in diameter, and usually from four to six feet in depth. While many of these Indian residences were purely and simply circular pits, others were of a more pretentious nature and further elaborated, embracing one or more shafts or chambers on a level with the bottom of the hut, dug into the sides of the room from four to six feet, with an arched covering of earth two or three feet high—literal earth chambers, three feet square by five or six feet long. Some of the huts had one chamber, and others two or more chambers, into which the adult members of the Indian family crawled at night for rest and sleep. The tops of these Indian abodes were covered with boughs of trees so arranged as to shed water and sprinkled with leaves and dried grass, usually covered with a thin layer of soil. Then in the center there is a narrow opening of eighteen inches to two feet, closed by a remarkable willow or wicker work covering, which is lifted to one side whenever the occupants of the hut wish to make their entrance or exit from the subterranean abode.

Northern Man—Who is that black bearded fellow who is glaring at us across the street?

Texas Man (terrified)—Don't look at him, stranger, or you're a dead man. He has already killed four men and seven niggers.

Northern Man (indignantly)—Why don't the people combine and rid the town of such a savage?

Texas Man (confidentially)—Lynch him? Now, you just wait, stranger. We have our suspicions that he has stolen a mule, and if we can fasten it on him he'll swing sure as shootin'.—Philadelphia Call.

GRAND DISTRIBUTION OF LOTS

—IN—

REECE'S ∴ ADDITION ∴ TO ∴ OCEANSIDE!

—TO TAKE PLACE—

MONDAY - - - - - - AUGUST 1, 1887.

230—LOTS—230 [AT] $150—EACH—$150.

WITH A CHANCE OF GETTING ONE HOUSE WORTH $1000, ONE HOUSE worth $800, one house worth $700, one house worth $600, and one of five houses worth $500 each.

REECE'S ADDITION adjoins the beautiful town of Oceanside on the northeast, one-half mile from the beach, just far enough to be protected from the cool winds off the ocean, but commanding a beautiful view of the water, making it the most delightful and desirable point for residence.

The addition lies three or four hundred yards east of the Oceanside Water Company's pipe-line, and the company agrees to put water upon the tract as soon as building has commenced.

OCEANSIDE is destined to be the Cape May and Long Branch of the Coast. It is situated on the California Southern Railroad, forty miles north of San Diego. Grading has already began on the Santa Ana branch out of Oceanside, making this the junction of the two roads. It is also the terminus of the San Diego Central, and is on surveyed route of Southern Pacific, and is rapidly building up. There are now some six or seven hundred inhabitants and about fifty places of business.

There are now two good hotels in operation and a new one nearly completed, which will cost, without furniture, in the neighborhood of $30,000. Plans for a still larger and finer one are now in the hands of the architect. A large two-story brick, 100 feet square and two stories, is now under construction for a bank, on the corner of Mill street, and about five minutes' walk from the addition.

Work will begin on the wharf the coming week. It is to be 1500 feet long, with 26 feet of water at low tide. It is to cost $30,000, and all the stock is taken. A syndicate of Eastern capitalists has bought all the water at Monsaratt and Pals, and are at work now piping the cool mountain water into the town of Oceanside, and the pipe-line will cross or pass very near to the addition.

Reece Bros. bind themselves to build the above-described houses ready to hand the key to the lucky owners in the distribution at the same time with the deed. For further particulars and maps inquire of

The Future Harbor of Southern California.

THIS IS THE OCEAN TERMINUS OF THE CALIFORNIA CENTRAL RAILROAD, OF THE ATCHISON, Topeka and Santa Fé system, who are under contract to lay five miles of sidetracks at this point by July 10, 1887—the shortest railroad line between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. PORT BALLONA is situated on Santa Monica Bay, only thirty minutes' ride by rail from the City of Los Angeles, with trains to begin running every three hours in the day early in July. Property can be purchased now at a much lower figure than when railroads and steamships are brought together. S.S.S. TRADE MARK

A Positive Proof That Cancer Can Be Cured.

Mr. A. R. Shands is a well-known farmer, whose residence is in Spartanburg, S. C. He is a man of means and education. His standing in his community is A 1 for truth and probity. While Mr. Shands refrains from using the word cancer, the facts he gives settles the question of the nature of his disease. He says his physicians never said the sore was a cancer, but that they all warned him that there was great danger that it might turn into a cancer. At any rate none of them could afford Mr. Shands the slightest relief, and finally he was cured by S. S. S., the finest and only absolutely certain blood purifier in the world. Below is Mr. Shands' own letter about his cure. Let any one suffering from a similar ailment write to Mr. Shands and learn from him the exact effects of the wonderful medicine that cured him.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 2, 1887.

GENTLEMEN: For twenty years I have had a sore on my left cheek. It had gradually been growing worse. The many physicians whom I had consulted were unable to do me any good. Last fall a year ago I began using S. S. S. At first it inflamed the sore and it became more virulent than ever; so much so, indeed, that my family insisted that I should leave off the medicine. I persisted in using the S. S. S. At the end of two months the sore was entirely healed. Thinking that the evil was out of my constitution, I left off the medicine; but in November, ten months after, a very slight breaking out appeared. I at once began again on S. S. S., and now that is also disappearing. I have every faith in S. S. S. It has done me more good than all the doctors and other medicines I ever took.

Yours truly, A. R. SHANDS.

THAT uncanny covering of the Macy-street bridge is to be sawed off, by order of the Council. Good!

THERE is a panic in the coffee market, and that staple has gone down. Of course, it's always going down.

THE Bell Telephone Company had a bout with its enemy in the United States Court at Boston yesterday.

FULTON WELLS is the next candidate for a street railroad. A franchise was granted for it by the Supervisors yesterday.

LOS ANGELES has one real-estate agent for every 150 of population, and Pasadena has one for every 100. Score another one for Pasadena.

THE Supervisors yesterday decided to purchase from A. W. Ryan a tract of land in the southwest corner of Santa Gertrudes ranch, Los Nietos township, for a poor-farm. The consideration is $100 an acre.

WHO would not like to be the noble press reporter who follows the President and telegraphs to the anxious public every time the Administration catches a fish in the cool and shaded depths of the Adirondacks?

THE District Attorney, County Auditor and County Clerk are charged with the duty of corresponding with the State Controller concerning the State's portion of El Hammond's defalcation. Hammond's bondsmen will have to correspond with the county on the same subject.

MAYOR WORKMAN made a beneficent recommendation to the Council yesterday in suggesting an ordinance prohibiting the switching and making up of trains across any of the public streets of the city. He probably meant along any of the public streets as well. The one is about as dangerous as the other.

The Times-Mirror Printing and Binding House.

Articles of incorporation of the Times-Mirror Printing and Binding House were filed with the County Clerk yesterday. This is the consolidated printing establishments of the Times-Mirror Company and Kingsley & Barnes, and the Mirror bindery. The capital stock of the new company is $25,000, all subscribed, and the directors are J. A. Kingsley, Thomas F. Barnes, James A. Harris, Albert McFarland, and Col. Harrison G. Otis. The establishment is to be under the direct management of Messrs. Kingsley and Barnes, who are already well known to the people of Los Angeles as successful job printers and thorough business men.

The consolidated printing establishment now occupies quarters in the Times Building, the large rear apartment on the first floor being used as a composing room, and the front basement as a press room. The bindery occupies commodious quarters on the third floor. Large as these rooms seemed for the purpose when the building was planned, they are now filled chock-a-block with printing materials, presses and general paraphernalia of the business, and the first problem likely to be presented is how to obtain room for expansion.

This is now, without question, the largest and best appointed printing house in the State, outside of San Francisco and Sacramento. We would not except Sacramento were it not for the fact that the State printing office is located there. The Times-Mirror concern will average up with the best commercial printing houses of California in ability to do first-class work, and do it promptly. It is the object of the new company to add wood engraving, stereotyping and lithographing to its accomplishments, and for these branches quarters are reserved in the third story of the building. With these secured, every branch of the art preservative will be provided for, and there need be no more sending to San Francisco for anything in these lines.

Los Angeles ought to appreciate an establishment of this kind, which will be fully up to metropolitan standards, and a credit to Los Angeles and South California.

Hotel Building.

The number of new hotels which are being erected all through Southern California is regarded by the stranger as a pretty good pointer for the immense influx of population into this section. Communities do not multiply hotels for their own occupancy. Little towns, even along the lines of railroads, do not need mammoth hostelries for the accommodation of local travel. Something outside of this brings the demand for them. The necessity for them must exist before capital is expended very liberally in such enterprises.

But all through Southern California, even in little towns of a few months' standing, a vast amount of money is being invested in first-class hotels. Los Angeles and Pasadena are not alone in this regard, but everywhere the call is for greater accommodation. But notwithstanding the many advances that Los Angeles has made for the convenience of the traveling public there is much more that will have to be done before she will have accommodations sufficient for the increased travel that will tend in this direction in the early fall. She will need, not only more hotels, but more first-class boarding-houses. If she does not have these, a good deal of the travel will slip from us for lack of accommodation.

Santa Barbara is already moving in the direction of two or three more mammoth hotels. She will be quick to seize her opportunities as they occur, and stands ready to provide for all that she can induce to visit her. Enterprise in this direction will pay. The percentage of profit will not be small. The traveling public appreciates a generous provision for its comfort, and the mere pleasure-loving tourist will go where it is to be obtained. Southern California is wise in preparing the best of accommodations for her transient population. It is a good means of advertising any section of country, and goes far toward making those who come as tourists anxious for a more permanent settlement.

Santa Barbara Prosperous.

Reports from Santa Barbara county of the condition of crops in that section are very favorable. In the rich and fertile valleys beyond the Santa Ynez range the farmers are looking forward to excellent harvests. The Lompoc Valley is outdoing itself in its promise for barley and beans, and the valley of the Santa Ynez, with its fine grain fields, shows better quality of grain than last year. The honey crop does not look so doubtful as a month ago, and there will probably be a pretty good yield. Santa Barbara county is as favorable a spot for the agriculturist and horticulturist as can be found in the State, and no doubt her advance will be rapid when once she has railroad communication established with the outside world.

Falling Away.

It is not well for a man in any position of life to let any other man or any class of men do his thinking for him. It is better for each individual to act for himself, and to decide matters affecting his own individual interests and actions than to lend himself to methods prescribed by malcontents and revolutionists. No organization which looks complacently upon the action of its members when they take the law into their own hands, and seek to enforce what they claim to be their rights by means of strikes and boycotts, can hope to carry with them the sympathies and support of the better classes of their own members. When such measures are resorted to differences of opinion will arise, and the strength of these organizations will be weakened.

From July 1, 1886, to April 1, 1887, the membership of the Knights of Labor in New York city and vicinity fell off from 104,469 to 61,786. This is not attributed to loss of interest, but to the dissensions which have arisen. Strikes which have the spirit of mob law do not meet with the approval of intelligent and clear-sighted workingmen. They are not the natural product of free American institutions. The strike as a weapon against capital is not a success. It does not pay. It will soon be abandoned.

YESTERDAY the Council came very near adopting the general system of sewerage so much talked about of late, but, at the last moment, found that something had been omitted from the plan, and referred it back to the Board of Public Works for amendment. The board will meet today to consider the matter, and it is probable that, by next session of the Council, something definite will be accomplished. Generally stated, there will be main sewers down the principal north and south thoroughfares, with cross-sewers where it becomes necessary to connect them, and a common outlet, which is to conduct the sewage 4000 feet from the southwest corner of the city, at which point it will be brought to the surface. The sewage will be used at that point for fertilizing purposes. Eventually, when there becomes a surplus of it, it will doubtless have to be carried to the ocean.

THE Examiner has a pleasant and sensible way of putting things. Speaking of the great streams of immigration in this country, it says:

Down into Northern Alabama and Georgia, down into Tennessee, flows one stream. As to the other—"the assessment roll of Los Angeles county last year was $40,000,000; this year it will be $160,000,000." California has known nothing like this since "the days of old, the days of gold, the days forty-nine." To interpret this, an intimate acquaintance with the Kansas experience of the past twelve years should be money in a man's pocket. Meantime, it is a pleasure to know that there is another seaboard city in California to stir San Francisco up. Nothing is so wholesome as a little competition.

THE Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Company having proposed to pay one-third of the expense of an elevated viaduct on First street across their tracks, and the new cable company having expressed a willingness to bear another third of the cost, it is incumbent on the city to accept these tenders and foot the rest of the bill. No improvement that could be suggested would conduce more to the safety and well-being of the people of Los Angeles, and the city will probably never have a better opportunity to construct it at comparatively slight cost.

IT is understood that the Sheriff's office has undertaken a thorough investigation of the mysterious killing of Father Fauran, at Anaheim. It may yet develop that an active and thorough newspaper reporter is able to give justice a pointer now and then. If the name of the dead priest is exonerated from the stigma of suicide, and the murderer is apprehended, it will be directly due to the efforts of the wide-awake man whom THE TIMES sent to Anaheim to investigate the case.

THE people who live in the trans-river portions of Los Angeles are asking earnestly about those three electric-light masts, which were ordered by the Council a month ago, to be placed at the end of the Buena Vista street, Downey avenue and Kuhrts street bridges, respectively. The bridges ought to be lighted.

TRYER'S South American telephone bubble has burst from newspaper exposure, and Tryer is a fugitive. He is a mercurial thief, and he will probably go somewhere else and tryer-gain.

THE steamboat owners of the great western rivers are organizing for protection against the encroachments of railroads, and to see that the Interstate Commerce Law is enforced.

JUSTICE FIELD, of the Supreme Court of the United States, is in San Francisco. Before returning East he will hold court in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland.

AMUSEMENTS.

This evening the Osbourne & Stockwell Comedy Company will open an engagement at the Grand Opera-house in Harbor Lights. The cast is made up of such people as Gustavus Levick, S. W. Keen and Miss Hattie Moore, and in the comedy part L. R. Stockwell. The company is fresh from the Alcazar, San Francisco, where it played a most successful engagement.

THE OSTRICHES.

Dr. Sketchley's Flock to Go to Pasadena.

Naramore & Denison, a firm of real-estate operators of this city and Pasadena, yesterday purchased the stock of Dr. Sketchley's ostrich farm and will remove the big birds to a tract on the corner of Lincoln and Fair Oaks avenues, Pasadena. There are fifteen full grown ostriches in the band, and the incubators and eggs on hand are included in the purchase. The price paid for the birds was about $1000 a pair. The purchasers have fifteen days to make the removal. They will keep the high-kickers at Pasadena for breeding and exhibition.

Base-Ball.

The Haverleys leave San Francisco today for this city. Meegan and D. Levy will be the battery for the Haverlys in Thursday's game and Swan and Monroe for the Los Angeles. Meegan is one of the oldest pitchers on the coast, and has been connected with several of the best clubs in the East. This series will finish the games of the season, as the Haverleys are the strongest club ever in Los Angeles. They defeated the celebrated Louisville Club 3 to 2 last winter. Meegan pitched, and was carried off the ground on the shoulders of his friends.

Game will be called promptly at 3 p.m.

Incorporated.

Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Times-Mirror Printing and Binding House. The object is to carry on a general job-printing, lithographing and binding business. The directors are J. A. Kingsley, Thomas F. Barnes, James A. Harris, Albert McFarland and Col. Harrison G. Otis. The capital stock is $25,000, divided into twenty-five shares of the par value of $1000 each, and has all been subscribed.

The Porter Ranch.

The sale of the Porter ranch, in San Fernando Valley, which was reported some time ago, was consummated yesterday. The property transferred comprises 21,000 acres and the price is $525,000. The purchase was made by a syndicate, for which F. C. Howes, of the Los Angeles National Bank, and F. S. Webster, of Chicago, are the managers.

AN ELIGIT TRAFFIC.

A San Francisco Man Whose Trade Was Not Wanted.

[Oakland Enquirer.]

Yesterday evening a young man, who looked like a country lawyer or school teacher, arrived in town and commenced selling a medical preparation on the streets. He commenced to sell his wares on Broadway and offer them in nice little blue boxes with raw-cotton packing. Four were in a box, and the price was $1. He called them "love drops," and they were in size and appearance like an ordinary gum-drop hollowed out and the cavity filled with a fluid which looked like sugar syrup having a brandy taste. To those to whom he tried to sell them he said that by putting one of them in a lot of ordinary gumdrops, obtained at any candy store, and offering them to a girl or woman, it would be an easy matter to accomplish her ruin. A young man doing business on Broadway, to whom the San Francisco peddler tried to sell some of the confectionary, notified the police.

Capt. Thomas, assisted by Officer Hughes, arrested the fiend and booked him on a charge of peddling without a license. He gave the name of R. K. Wilson. This morning in the Police Court Capt. Thomas appeared with a number of little boxes, and soon they were passed around among the lawyers and reporters.

Wilson stated to the Court that he thought the drops were harmless, and that he did not know he was violating a license ordinance. He pleaded his case with great fluency and tried to browbeat the witnesses. The Court gave him the full extent of the law—$100 fine or fifty days' imprisonment.

GOLD AND SILVER.

Big Ledge Discovered on the Santa Rosa Ranch.

[Murrietta (San Diego county) Transcript.]

Nearly three months ago Parker Dear, the proprietor of the Santa Rosa ranch, found a ledge of mineral-bearing quartz of some kind on his land, but a short distance from Murrietta. He began developing the mine and secured specimens of the quartz, which he sent to one of the best assayists of San Francisco a few days since. The assay gives a total estimate of $198.91 per ton—gold, $2.51; silver, $196.40. This is not entirely unexpected by Mr. Dear, as many old and experienced miners to whom he had shown the specimens said it was very rich.

The ledge is easily traced for two miles through the Santa Rosa property and where it leaves the ranch it has been taken up in claims by quite a number of men who have a prospect now of making something of it. The shaft sunk is now down sixty feet and the ore is growing richer at the rate of $10 to the foot the deeper they go. The lead is four feet wide near the top and increases in size as they descend. It is impossible to estimate the quantity of ore obtainable, but there is enough to make several fortunes for its possessor.

Mr. Dear intends prospecting still further by running a tunnel a short distance. It is his desire to organize a company of San Francisco capitalists, and open up the mine systematically. He is now building a road from town to the mine, a distance of three miles. Further developments are looked for with much interest.

SUMMER EXCURSIONS.

Los Angeles Only Satisfied with $2,500,000 of Transfers a Week.

[San Francisco Examiner.]

"The real-estate transfers of Los Angeles have now reached $2,500,000 a week. Last week this much was sold, and the same the week before. This is the notch now. Up to three months ago, or thereabouts, $1,000,000 a week was the amount, but it gradually climbed up to the first-named figure. It is not going to fall below that, either, in the future." So stated W. H. Goucher, of the Providencia Development Company, yesterday, to an Examiner representative.

"A new thing, too," continued he, "in Los Angeles are the summer excursions. They have never before been run, neither to that city nor to any other point in the State. They are from various eastern cities, and lots of people are coming. It is livelier there than ever.

"I understand fifteen excursions are booked for Southern California between now and the 1st of August.

"The activity isn't going to stop down there. People can say just what they please about its short duration, but it doesn't have a bit of effect. Nobody cares for that. It goes right along.

"Even Senator Stanford has been won over. He hadn't been there for three or four years, except on the hind end of a car, till the other day, and now, I am told, he is as enthusiastic as anybody."

Mr. Goucher returns to Southern California today.

OIL NOTES.

The Big Tank of the Mission Transfer Company.

[Santa Paula Graphic.]

The teams of the Mission Transfer Company brought in thirty huge iron oil drums on last Wednesday, which were shipped by steamer from San Francisco. The oil-drums are for the Sespe Oil Company, and were taken to well No. 1, in Santa Paula cañon, to be filled with oil and shipped by rail to Los Angeles. Each drum has a capacity of 110 gallons.

The 32,000-barrel oil tank of the Mission Transfer Company has now an attractive sign, painted in letters in white shaded lead, reading: "Mission Transfer Company, Tank No. 7." The letters are four feet in height and three feet in width, making sixty-four feet of lettering.

The Mission Transfer Company will furnish oil to the Santa Paula Brick Company, for burning brick, which will be commenced in a few weeks.

There are now about 5000 barrels of oil in the 32,000-barrel tank.

The Dismantled Orizaba.

[Humboldt Times]

The old steamer Orizaba, which years ago was well-known in these waters, has outlived her usefulness and is to be taken to pieces and such portions as can be used to advantage in building or repairing other ships will be permitted to do so, and the remainder will be cast aside as rubbish. In her day the Orizaba was considered a big institution on this coast, and the service performed in the settlement and development of California would sum up largely if fairly estimated. But she has become weak, and what is worse, unfashionable, and she has to go.

Editorial Emotion.

[National City Record.]

"Brother editors, did you ever get so eloquent over a subject that you couldn't write an intelligent sentence about it?"—[Carlsbad Sea Lion.

It is self-evident that the above was written by a woman. Editors are not supposed to be hysterical—that kind of business will do for editresses. Sometimes during these booming times we write our locals and editorials standing up in the chair, and break off pencil points bearing down too hard—but that is the limit.

Bitten by a Rattlesnake.

S. S. Armstrong's 3-year-old child was bitten by a rattlesnake Sunday and died before proper medical assistance could be procured. The child was playing in the dooryard on the farm, eight miles from Anderson, Shasta county.

She Don't Hunt for Him.

What Gov. Bartlett Says of His Health.

He Has Been Very Ill, but Is Now Fast Improving.

Important Decision Regarding a Railway Company's Liability.

A Smuggling Vessel Pursued by a Steamer from San Diego—Colored Masons in Session—Justice Field Arrives at San Francisco—More Rain.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—[By the Associated Press.] In response to a telegram sent from this city respecting his health, Gov. Bartlett telegraphed today from Highland Springs:

"When I came here I was suffering from symptoms of serious organic disease, but they have gradually disappeared and I am improving steadily, but think it prudent to keep quiet a while longer."

Dr. Bates telegraphed as follows: "Gov. Bartlett's health has been steadily improving since his arrival here, and he is now much stronger and better than when he arrived."

IMPORTANT DECISION.

A Railway Not Liable for the Death of a Careless Conductor.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—[Special.] The Supreme Court Commissioners entered a decision today in the case of the administrators of Gilman T. Brown vs. the Central Pacific Railroad Company. Plaintiff was a conductor in the employ of the company on the division between Los Angeles and Yuma. On the night of April 7, 1877, the train which he had charge of parted at a point between the two stations. On the rear portion were the conductor and two brakemen, while on the front part were the engineer, head brakeman and fireman. On discovering the accident the head brakeman climbed on the roof of the car and waved to the engineer to run backward. It so happened, however, that the train was on a down grade at the time, and the rear cars, after parting, had been carried forward by their own momentum. A collision consequently occured, in which Conductor Brown was killed. It was proved at the trial that the brakemen were not in their positions when the accident occurred; that they were in the baggage car with the conductor, calling off way-bills. The Supreme Court held that the conductor, in calling the brakemen from their duties, was directly responsible for the accident. The decision of the lower court in favor of plaintiff was reversed and a new trial ordered. RUS.

The Pure Wine Law.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—An important opinion was given today by the Attorney-General with reference to the new wine law. The merchants, at their recent conference, resolved to require every vineyardist to send an analysis of all wines shipped to them, whether under the old or new contract. To test the legality of this movement, the growers, through Chief Officer Wheeler, sent a number of queries to the Attorney-General, who says: "The buyer cannot refuse to receive the wine because there is no analysis or certificate of analysis, but if the evidence should show that the wine so sold was impure he cannot be held under his contract."

They claim that no material raise will be made in rates.

WASHINGTON.

Secretary Lamar Decides a Los Angeles Land Case—The Telephone Scandal Beginning to Grow Very Rank.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—[Special.] The Call's Washington special says: "The Secretary of the Interior today decided the timber-culture contest between Alfred Wright and Charles L. Davis, begun by the latter November 22, 1881, over the ownership of lots 4 and 5, section 28, township 1 S., range 8 W., Los Angeles Land District. The contest was begun on the ground that the land was not naturally devoid of timber. The local land officers reported that the land was not naturally subject to timber entry. Secretary Lamar holds that the tract claimed by Davis is not subject to entry under the timber-culture act, and reverses the decision of the Commissioner of the Land office." RUS.

THE TELEPHONE SCANDAL.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The sensation of the hour is the exposure of the criminal record of Tryer, vice-president and manager of the American Telephone Company. Tryer cannot be found today. It is learned that he took the night boat to Norfolk last evening, and it is not likely he will be present at the meeting of directors, which has been called for tomorrow morning. Maj. Butterworth, president of the company, has been telegraphed for, and will doubtless be here in the morning. It is reported that there are several other members of Congress who have been caught by the oily tongue of Tryer. Senator Sabin, of Minnesota, who knew of his prison record, had a great deal of confidence in his efforts to retrieve his past. It is said he has encouraged Tryer with money, as well as good advice.

SECRETARY LAMAR'S RETURN.

Secretary Lamar returned from the South this morning, and was at his desk in the Interior Department. On account of the illness of a member of her family Mrs. Lamar will extend her visit indefinitely.

Rice Fields Flooded.

NEW ORLEANS, June 13.—A special to the Times-Democrat from Point-La-Hoche, La., says: "The brisk east wind of the past four days has driven a ruinous salt-water gulf up, submerging all the rice fields from this point to Quarantine station, a distance of thirty miles, and has forced it inland up as far as Lachiene, in St. Bernard Parish, and all along the east bank of the river to this point. The damage cannot now be estimated, but if bright sunshine follows the subsiding of the floods then not a head of rice will be made for thirty miles along the east bank of the Mississippi."

THE RUNAWAY REDS.

Troops Surprise the Apaches' Mountain Camp,

And Capture Everything Except the Hostiles Themselves.

The Latter Save Themselves by Scattering in Flight.

Fears That the Despoiled Braves Will Raid Ranches to Make Good Their Losses—Reported Murder of Another Settler.

By Telegraph to The Times.

BENSON (Ariz.), June 13.—[By the Associated Press.] A courier from Lieut. Johnson arrived this morning, bringing information of the surprise of the Apache camp in the Rincon Mountains Saturday noon, and the capture of all their horses, saddles and blankets. The Indians saved nothing, and barely escaped in safety. The soldiers followed in hot pursuit, and yesterday morning had trailed them to the San Pedro River, which they crossed. It is supposed that they are headed for San Carlos, but it is possible they may try to peaceably get back on the reservation. Capt. Wint took up the trail on the other side of the San Pedro, and Lieut. Johnson has gone to Yavapai Cañon to intercept them should they try to escape through that pass. In their present crippled condition they can do no serious damage, but it is impossible to tell when they will make a raid on some ranch to procure horses.

AN ENCOURAGING REPORT.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—A dispatch from an official source states that only sixteen of the San Carlos Indians are away from the reservation, and that all the Indians feel that the conduct of the others, who have committed depredations, reflects on them. They say they are anxious to capture the renegades themselves, and would like to assist in their apprehension. Gen. Miles will leave Los Angeles for Ft. Grant today en route for the scene of operations.

NOT SO HOPEFUL.

TUCSON (Ariz.), June 13.—Gen. Miles will arrive here tonight to take personal charge of the Indian campaign, as there is every appearance of a prolonged war. Suspicion has long pointed to Indian settlers on the San Pedro Reservation as being abettors of the San Carlos renegades, and this fact seems now to be established. The former have kept the hostiles informed as to the movements of the troops, and have also furnished them with horses to aid them in escaping pursuit, and this being true accounts for the rapid movements of the hostiles, they receiving ammunition and horses from these supposed friendly Indians.

REPORT OF ANOTHER MURDER.

A rumor is current in a Mexican settlement here that a Mexican was killed by Indians yesterday, between the Soporei River and the Santa Rita Mountains, about thirty miles southwest of here. This can hardly be true, unless there is another band of hostiles in that part of the country. Fires on the Santa Catalinas are raging furiously and have destroyed thousands of dollars of timber, and there is no way of stopping them. These fires were, no doubt, set by Indians to prevent the soldiers from signaling. The fire line is about twenty miles in extent. Grave fears are entertained that Indians who were surprised, and lost their horses and blankets, will raid some settlement and secure a new outfit.

LIEUT. JOHNSON'S REPORT.

The following was received from Lieut. Johnson this afternoon:

"FROM ANTONIO RANCH, SAN PEDRO, June 13.—We jumped the Indians in the Rincon Mountains yesterday noon and captured all their stock, saddles, etc. They crossed the San Pedro today heading for San Carlos. Will pass between Grant and Arivaipa tomorrow. Wint, of the Fourth Cavalry, is on their trail.

(Signed) "JOHNSON."

The reports that the present leader is a graduate of Hampton School are not corroborated. Capt. Wint, of the Fourth Cavalry, reports thirty Indians as having crossed the San Pedro near Reddington's ranch, in the direction of Agua Caliente.

The commanding officer at San Carlos reports that sixteen bucks and one squaw have left that reservation, and, this being true, other tribes must be out.

The Largest City in the World.

[San Bernardino Times.]

Southern California is the largest city in the world; it extends from San Diego on the south to Ventura on the north, and from San Pedro on the west to the summit of Mt. San Bernardino on the east; it takes a number of adjoining counties and a portion of the Republic of Mexico for suburbs, and covers an unlimited number of square miles in area, with all the outside world for expansion if needed. "No pent-up Utica confines its powers," and its growth depends wholly upon population. The principal thing raised on land is the price, and this increases so rapidly that it does not pay to waste time with anything else. Even oranges and raisins cannot compare in point of profit with raising prices. In Pasadena, one of the subdivisions of this great city, real estate is sold by the pound, and a committee of citizens stop every vehicle on leaving the town to brush the dust off the wheels because it is too valuable to be carried away. Property-holders in some places have lost thousands by the shrinkage caused by the north wind. One of the great appurtenances to the land here is the climate, and there is probably more of that to the square foot than in any other place in the world. The inhabitants have but one form of religion, a belief in the future of the country, and that Paradise was originally located here, that it is now Paradise regained, and it is rank heresy to deny this article of faith, punishable with ostracism and an ignominious death.

It is a pretty good sort of a country, too, or its inhabitants would not love it so well, believe so firmly in it, nor would it grow so rapidly as it has.

Bound to Have Good Order.

[Santa Monica Outlook.]

There was a very large crowd at the seaside last Sunday, and good order prevailed throughout the day. We heard of but one drunken fellow, and he was of a mild species. The genus hoodlum concluded that it was not his day to spread a crimson glow over this seaside town. Even the thimble-rig swindler—he of the adamantine cheek—made himself conspicuous by his absence. This is the way it will be the remainder of the season. The marshal has six deputies for every Sunday, and the town attorney is empowered to increase the number, if necessary. The town authorities have decided that this place shall no longer be disgraced by rowdyism. There is no way to prevent Los Angeles roughs from coming here, but there are means by which they can be made to behave themselves. These will be employed to the fullest extent. The railroad company have also decided that there shall be no more rowdyism on return trains to Los Angeles on Sundays. Only one or two officers are visible, but if help is needed it will appear, as if by magic, all over the cars. Every Sunday some fifteen or twenty railroad boys will be on the trains, and at a moment's warning they will form a posse that won't stand any foolishness. We hope the good people who desire to come to the seaside on Sundays will remember these statements. It would also be an act of justice if those papers that have given publicity to the Sunday disorders down here would briefly state the facts as here given.

It Was a Glorious Victory.

Alarming Reports About the German Crown Prince.

His Doctors Afraid to Tell the Truth About His Malady.

The Coercion Bill Advances Another Stage Toward Final Passage.

The Prohibition Party Scores a Decided Success in the Dominion Parliament—How Davitt Outwitted the Irish Police—Other News from Abroad.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, June 13.—[By Cable and the Associated Press.] The Chronicle's Berlin correspondent emphasizes the recent adverse report regarding the condition of the Crown Prince of Germany. He asserts that Prince Bismarck considers the Crown Prince's life doomed, and that the latter's family are prepared for the worst. The correspondent says he has heard that the real statement of Prof. Virchow was concealed; that the Professor went to the palace with tears in his eyes, declared that his examination had led him to believe that the malady was incurable and that the Prince's life was in danger.

A specialist has written to the Berlin Tagblatt, saying that he believes the case of the Crown Prince is a serious one, and that the fitting time for an operation is being allowed to pass, owing to fears of the result. It is necessary, he says, to remove the larynx, which is the only operation that can save the Prince's life, although it will deprive him of his voice. The specialist declares that if the affection were only a simple polypus, matters would never have reached their present serious aspect.

THE COERCION BILL.

The Fifth Clause Under Discussion in Parliament.

LONDON, June 13.—[By Cable and the Associated Press.] The House of Commons this evening resumed the debate on the Coercion Bill, taking up the fifth clause, which deals with the proclaiming of districts.

Henry Fowler (Liberal) proposed as an amendment that proclamations be made by order of the Privy Council, instead of by the Viceroy. He urged that a change of such importance as the proclaiming of districts should be made by the imperial instead of by the Irish executive.

Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, declined to accept the amendment.

Mr. Doherty moved an amendment that proclamations be issued only on the report of the Judge of the high court, after local inquiry.

Mr. Holmes, Irish Attorney-General, opposed the amendment on the ground that it was not advisable to remove any responsibility from the executive.

Mr. Bradlaugh suggested that to meet the views of the government the words "and punishment" be added to the amendment after the word "prevention."

Mr. Balfour announced that the government accepted the amendment with Mr. Bradlaugh's modification. [Cheers.]

An amendment providing that proclamations should endure six months, and another providing that a week's notice be given, were rejected. The government accepted an amendment offered by Fowler, making the proclamations subject to the veto of either house of Parliament.

After several other amendments had been rejected, Attorney-General Holmes moved to amend the clause by making summary jurisdiction and change of venue apply to crimes committed before the issue of the proclamation, if such crimes be committed after passing the act.

Mr. Healy said he considered the proposal a breach of faith made in order to occupy the little time that was left for discussion. The amendment was carried by a vote of 227 to 118.

THE DOMINION.

The Prohibitionists Gain a Decided Victory.

OTTAWA, June 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The Prohibition debate, which commenced in the House of Commons on Wednesday last, was continued all day today. Cargill's amendment for the repeal of the Scott Act, the Local Option Law, now in force in sixty-eight counties in Canada, was negatived by 155 to 37. Sir John Macdonald and Messrs. Carting and Costigan, members of the Ministry, voted yea.

A division followed on Mr. Girouard's amendment to allow the sale of beer and light wines in Scott Act counties. This was voted down by a majority of 88. M. Sproule then moved an amendment to the main motion to the effect that when found expedient to grant prohibition it would be accompanied by a reasonable measure of compensation.

Fisher moved that Sproule's amendment be struck out and the following added to the main motion: "Compensation being a matter of detail, that such be considered when the measure prohibiting is before the House."

A division on the main motion in favor of prohibition, with the foregoing amendment, was then taken, and the motion was negatived by 43 majority.

The Atlantic Wins Again.

TOMPKINSVILLE (S. I.), June 13.—[By the Associated Press.] In the Corinthian regatta today there was a fine breeze between Sandy Hook and Sandy Hook lightship, though there was little inside, either at starting or finishing. On the corrected time the Culprit Fay beat the Beatrice 11 minutes 9 seconds in the sixth class. The Stranger had a walkover in the first class, and the Gleam in the eighth class. The Atlantic, Galatea and other large boats are becalmed in the lower bay. The Atlantic is nearest home, and will probably win.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The big fellows finally drifted in with the tide, and the Atlantic won, beating the Galatea, on corrected time, by eight minutes.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Counsel to the corporation has given the Police Commissioners an opinion to the effect that the receipts in the city of commissions to make bets on race tracks is a violation of the pool-selling law, and he advises that they stop the practice.

A PANIC IN COFFEE.

The Rapid Decline in the Eastern Markets

Catches Several Brokers Napping—Heavy Failures Ensue.

War Among the Knights of Labor in New York City.

Iowa Grand Army Men Protest Against Being Reviewed by President Cleveland—Uncle Sam Offers to Return to Texas Her Captured Flags.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, June 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The failure of B. G. Arnold & Co., coffee merchants, is announced. They were caught, largely long on a declining market, which has just declined ninety-five points farther, and is very active, excited and panicky. More failures are expected to follow. B. G. Arnold was the originator of the Coffee Exchange and the first president. He was formerly of the firm of Arnold, Sturgess & Co., the largest coffee house in the United States. The failure is supposed to have been caused chiefly by inability of Rio houses to remit margins in time. The liabilities are stated to be above $1,000,000, and New York banks are said to be heavily involved. There was great excitement this afternoon on the Coffee Exchange.

The failure of Mackay & Small, prominent coffee brokers, of Water street, is announced, with liabilities estimated at from $150,000 to $300,000.

The market is now steadier. Norton, Weil & Bevan, another large coffee firm, has suspended. W. I. Norion & Co., coffee brokers, have also failed. Liabilities, about $20,000.

TOUCHED BOTTOM.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The general opinion seems to be that the market in coffee has touched bottom, and will be stronger tomorrow, but no one can predict with any surety. The panic has resulted in a sudden influx of telegrams from brokers, one of which, from Havre, France, says that the coffee market there has risen 1.8 60 points today owing to erroneous quotations from New York.

LABOR'S LEGIONS.

War Among Knights of Labor in New York City.

NEW YORK, June 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The Home Club of District Assembly No. 49, Knights of Labor, which has caused so much trouble among other district assemblies of this city, is said to be fast disintegrating. The matter which is causing international trouble, and from which is said to be greater danger than from outside attacks, is the failure of the auditing committee, appointed last October, to report the financial affairs of the assembly. A report was to have been made yesterday, as a result of strong pressure, but it was not forthcoming, and the members declare that if it is not submitted next Sunday there will be war.

TWO SUCCESSFUL STRIKES.

TORONTO, June 13.—The striking carpenters met this morning, about 1200 answering to their names. It was announced that twenty-seven master carpenters had signed an agreement granting an increased rate, and the men, about 400 in number, employed by the twenty-seven, went back to work this afternoon. It is expected that other masters will soon follow suit.

About 300 plasterers went out on strike this morning for an advance of 2½ cents per hour. Twenty master plasterers promptly agreed to grant the increase, and their men will go back to work tomorrow, leaving only about sixty men out.

BANNERS RETURNED.

The War Department Tenders Texas Its Captured Flags.

AUSTIN (Tex.), June 13.—[By the Associated Press.] Gov. Ross has received the following letter from the Adjutant-General of the United States:

"The President of the United States having approved the recommendation that all flags in custody of the War Department be returned to the authorities of the respective States in which the regiments which bore them were organized, for such final disposition as they may determine, I am instructed by the honorable Secretary of War to make over to you, in the name of the War Department, the flags now in this office, belonging to volunteer organizations of the State of Texas. In discharging this pleasant duty, I beg that you will please advise me of your wishes in the matter. The intention is on returning each flag to give its history, as far as it is possible to do so, stating the circumstances of its capture and recovery."

A PROTEST.

Iowa G. A. R. Men Object to Being Reviewed by Cleveland.

DES MOINES (Iowa), June 13.—[By the Associated Press.] All of the Grand Army posts in this city have united in an indorsement of Gen. Tuttle's action, as commander for Iowa, in protesting against having President Cleveland review the Grand Army at St. Louis. The posts presented him with a series of resolutions, concluding as follows:

"Resolved, that, if Grover Cleveland and his friends insist on using the prestige of the Grand Army of the Republic to obtain an audience, that he send a substitute, and, if possible, the person who represented him in the army during the war. While we respect the office he fills, we must still be allowed to say that we have no kind feelings for its present soldier-hating occupant."

Will Prosecute Most's Followers.

JERSEY CITY (N. J.), June 13.—District Attorney Winfield, of Hudson county, has taken steps to bring to punishment Herr Most and a number of his followers for their connection with the rioting at Oak Hill Park, near Guttenberg, yesterday afternoon.

DEAD IN THE DESERT.

The Bodies of Three Unknown Men Found.

[Bakersfield Californian.]

Last week we published a letter in reference to the alleged finding of three dead men at Antelope Valley, in the northwestern part of this county.

Last Friday Coroner Buckreus set out to investigate. When he reached the outskirts of the waterless and desert region indicated he ascertained that three bodies had been found, but at points widely separated—one near Polonia Pass, one in Cholame Valley and one about six miles from where he had made inquiry. The two first were in other counties and had been buried, nothing having been found to identify them. He hunted up the remains of the last and held an inquest. The flesh had decayed from the bones, which were scattered about, as was also the clothing. Nothing was found to give the slightest clew to their identity. The remains were probably those of a tramp, and death had resulted for want of water. The western side of the Tulare and San Joaquin valleys is a fatal place for the tramp fraternity, as many of them meet their death there in crossing over from the coast. The vast expanse without water cannot be safely traversed by men on foot, especially in the warm season.

"Lucky" Needs No Change of Venue.

[Pomona Progress.]

Stephen M. White, through J. E. McComas and Justice Wright, secured this week the affidavits of eighty of the leading citizens of Pomona who believe that "Lucky" Baldwin can secure a fair trial in this county. "Lucky" has applied for a change of venue in the Perkins-Baldwin case on the grounds that he cannot secure justice in this county, but we are quite certain, from the formidable list of affidavits presented, the court will squelch any such motion.

A Fourth of July Suggestion.

[Boston Herald.]

The Scotch are always sensible, practical and humane. In Edinburgh, Scotland, on the 18th of June, the Queen's Jubilee will be celebrated by a dinner to 6000 of the poor of that city. Happy thought. Why not celebrate the Fourth of July by remembering the poor, instead of expending $12,000, one-half of which is used in paying for the guzzling and feasting of a few? Erect ten tents upon the common and give to the poor a good square meal.

The Rozelles.

Mr. and Mrs. Rozelle, the vitriol artists, were arraigned in Judge Cheney's court yesterday afternoon. Their counsel, Henry T. Gage, asked for time to plead, and filed a demurrer, which will be argued tomorrow.

A Specific for Croup.

Mr. J. J. LaGrange, a prominent druggist of Avoca, Neb., says: "I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a specific for Croup. It is very pleasant to take, which is one of the most important requisites where a cough remedy is intended for use among children. I have known of cases of spasmodic croup where I know the life of a little one was saved by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." Sold by C. H. Hance, 77 and 79 North Spring street.

Mr. C. H. Shawen, Wellsville, Kan., says: "It is with pleasure that I can speak of the good Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy has done in my family during the last thirteen years. In the most obstinate cases of summer complaint and diarrhœa among my children it acts as a charm, making it never necessary to call in a physician. I can truthfully say that it is my judgment, based on years of experience, that there is not a medicine in the market that is its equal as a family remedy, and that I will never keep house without a bottle of it in my possession." Sold by C. H. Hance, 77 and 79 North Spring street.

Water in abundance will be piped and laid each and every lot. The town is located on an eminence, commanding a view San Fernando Valley on the north and west, while the city of Los Angeles is plainly ble to the south. The lands embrace both foothill and valley property, and for fertility cannot be surpassed in Southern California, and claimed by all who adapted to the growth of ORANGES, LEMONS, LIMES, OLIVES and other fruits.

A plot of the town and price and terms of lots and acres can be obtained at Pasadena.

EVIDENCES OF HER GREAT PROSPERITY.

PASADENA, June 13.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The future of this place is certainly assured, if substantial improvements are any criterion. On East Colorado street there are in process of erection, between the railroad and Fair Oaks avenue, four large brick buildings. On South Fair Oaks there are being built a two-story brick, for a drug store, and a three-story brick, cement finish, for a fine hotel. There is being laid along West Colorado, by the Pasadena Land and Water Company, a ten-inch water-main, one mile in length. North Fair Oaks avenue has a number of brick houses, just started, and a bank building, just finished.

The San Gabriel Valley Bank has just about completed a handsome three-story brick and stone structure, which it will occupy about the 1st of August. The vault of this bank will be one of the safest and strongest in Southern California. Three brick walls, with air-chambers, and ninety-pound steel rails on the inside, will certainly make what they claim for it, a safe deposit vault.

Pasadena will be bountifully supplied with water as pure as can be had out of the mountains when the land and water company get through with their present projected improvements, which consist in laying six, eight and ten-inch mains on Orange, Grove and Colorado streets. They have just relaid, with a thirteen-inch sheet-iron pipe, their cement pipes that supplied South Pasadena.

The business blocks that are going up represent an outlay of about $150,000 for buildings alone.

Pasadena is rivaling Los Angeles in real-estate booming, if the number of real-estate firms is any index to business done. There are in the town eighty real-estate agents and firms and 8000 inhabitants, being one real-estate firm to every 100 inhabitants. Los Angeles has 403 real-estate firms and 60,000 people, making about one real-estate firm to every 150 inhabitants.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Frederick Moulton on Farming.

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] There are so many new people here trying to farm, it may not be out of place to intimate that there never was a country where it was more necessary to begin at the bottom and learn the business all over. It takes at least three years to get the "wildness" out of the land, before it will bear a full crop under any circumstances. Grass or weeds and shrubs take on a woody nature here, and do not rot as quickly as in the East, so that the ground is kept open by anything of that kind plowed under. The weeds here are the toughest and hardiest of all weeds; therefore it is a hard struggle to keep the ground clean. But in no country is it of such vital necessity to the cultivated crop to do so.

F. M. SHAW.

Depot Site Suggested.

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] A fine site for the new depot has been suggested to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. It is situated on the north side of First street, opposite the depot grounds of the Santa Fé Company, and running back as far as Turner street. The track would commence from the company's present track (Yuma crossing), on Mission street, and run along the west side of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé's levee clear to the grounds of First street. A right of way has been promised for some distance down to Aliso street. The city could grant right of way along Keller street (now useless as a street) when the spot between Turner and First could easily be reached. It would then be necessary to bridge Weill or Turner streets, so that the company could then strike out for the ocean with but little difficulties to contend with—a right of way over which would insure a safe and permanent levee on the east side—giving protection to property on the confines of the Los Angeles River down to the city's southern limits. A union depot on a large scale might then, in the near future, be accomplished. Other companies would crowd depots as near as possible, and colonnades combining all in one could be built. The Mayor is in hearty sympathy with this scheme, which will most benefit all hands.

A Single Tree Worth $175.

[Oroville Register.]

John Capura, of this town, owns one of the finest cherry trees in all California. It is now eighteen years old, stands nearly sixty feet in height, and measures four inches less than six feet in circumference. It is of the white oxheart variety, and last year bore by actual weight 2226 pounds. This year Capura estimates that it will produce not less than 675 pounds more than last year, or over 2800 pounds. He peddles the cherries through the country, and they average him 8 cents a pound. Last year this one tree brought him a little over $175. He owns only six acres of ground, and of course takes splendid care of the trees. He has 120 of the oxheart trees and about thirty-five of the black tartarian, besides peaches, plums, nectarines and seventy-five young orange trees on his place.

Cheap, Choice, Near-by Acre Property.

The odd blocks in the Providencia ranch, situated west of and near the town of Burbank, containing forty acres each, will be placed on the market at the office of the company, No. 128 South Spring street, on Monday morning, June 20th, at $100 per acre, which is lower, considering the quality of land and its near-by location, than any land now offered in Los Angeles county.

Barbank.

Fifteen minutes' ride by the Southern Pacific road, and one hour's ride through Cahuenga Valley by carriage, commanding a fine panoramic view of Los Angeles, on the south, and a superb view of the entire San Fernando Valley on the north. We request investors to go there and see if this statement is exaggerated.

Home at Last.

Social Announcement.

The first advance in the price of Ivanhoe lots was made June 1st, as per advertisement for several months. For various good reasons, some of the lots are left at the original prices for another month; but most of these have been advanced 50 to 50 per cent. Even at advanced prices it is the best property offered for the money anywhere around Los Angeles, and buyers should choose their lots before the next advance, which will be made in July. The sale of lots in May was larger than in any previous month, and the end of June will find most of the lots sold. All who see Ivanhoe agree that it is the best property for the least money that can be found. The water system and the dummy road will both be ready by July, and many houses will be built in the next two months. If you want a first-class, large lot, for a small sum of money, come at once. REBOUND PLUNGER DOUBLE-ACTING, CONTINUOUS, HAY, STRAW, & WOOL PRESS

READ THE FOLLOWING:

EL CAJON, San Diego Co., Cal., Aug. 1, 1885.

Whitman Agricultural Co., St. Louis, Mo.—GENTLEMEN: We have pressed 400 tons with our "Improved Whitman's Hay Press" this season, in 18x22 press, in about two months' running. We have pressed from eight to fourteen tons a day in grass hay; from eight to ten tons a day with ease. We have pressed in grain hay eight tons in six hours, just to see what the press would do. In grain hay the bales run from 180 to 240 pounds. We have pressed 190 pounds with ten feeds, which the Dederick press cannot do, because their feed-box is not so large as ours. The bales made by our Whitman press are much smoother and more sightly than bales made by the Dederick press. We have pressed twenty bales an hour, averaging 150 pounds to the bale, in wild oats hay. We pressed hay this year upon the same ranch where the Dederick Over Circle press baled last year. Their bales weighed 85 to 125 pounds; our bales weighed 125 to 190 pounds. In testimony that the foregoing statement is true, the undersigned crew running the "Whitman Improved Perpetual Hay Press" belonging to Gregg Bros., El Cajon, San Diego county, Cal., have hereunto set our hands and seals the day and date first above written. EDWIN R. GREGG, SYDNEY R. GREGG, FRANK BURNHAM, JOHN O'CONNELL, FRANK KHIENER.

The Mirror Premium Sewing-Machine.

$22.00 for a $75.00 High-Arm Sewing-Machine

And The Weekly Mirror.

THE MIRROR

Perfect and Improved High-Arm Sewing-Machine

For $22 this machine and WEEKLY MIRROR, postage paid, for one year.

This machine is the first of its kind ever offered the public at factory prices, and cannot be bought from agents for less than the regular selling price, $75. It is the high-arm pattern, has self-setting needle; cannot be run backward; has automatic cut-off for driving belt, which prevents it from being run backward, thus avoiding all dangers of breaking thread or needles. It is a noiseless, light-running machine, accompanied by an illustrated book of instructions that makes everything so plain and simple that any lady or child can master it. We call it the MIRROR HIGH-ARM SEWING MACHINE, and we warrant it to give full and entire satisfaction in every case, or it may be returned to us within ten days after the subscriber has received the same, if it fails to be as represented, at our expense, and the money will be refunded.

The above cut represents our HIGH-ARM MIRROR SEWING MACHINE, the very latest improved machine of the high-arm style; a complete embodiment of all the most recent improvements in sewing machine mechanism; a model selected by us after a careful and critical examination and test of the various machines in the market.

Having arranged with the manufacturers to supply us with these machines in large quantities for spot cash at or very near first cost, we can save our subscribers at least $35 on the price of each machine. As this is the first time a sewing machine of this character has been offered to the public at about manufacturer's cost, we feel confident our readers will promptly take advantage of this opportunity to provide themselves with first-class high-arm machines, which obtained in any other way would cost them almost three times the amount.

We could fill several columns expatiating on the merits of this high-arm machine, but to save the reader's patience we will simply say that it contains all the modern improvements, is strong, simple, durable, light-running and noiseless.

OUTFIT—Each machine is supplied with the following outfit: One Hemmer and Feller (one piece), Twelve Needles, Six Bobbins, One Wrench, One Quilting Gauge, One Screw Driver, Oil Can filled with Oil, Cloth Gauge and Thumb-screw and a Book of Directions. The following extra attachments are also furnished free: Ruffler, Tucker, Binder, Set of Wide Hemmers and Shirring Plate.

The regular retail price of this machine is $75. Our price with a year's subscription to the WEEKLY MIRROR is only $22.

Knowing the character of the machine and the high grade of material and workmanship entering into its construction, we have no hesitation in agreeing to return the money at once to any subscriber who is not fully satisfied on examination that our high-arm machine is fully equal to our representations, we paying freight on return of the machine.

CAUTION—Sewing machine agents will tell you, "Beware of Cheap machines." We tell you buy the high-arm machine on trial, and if not satisfactory return it. No agent can sell you its equal for less than $75. Each part of the machine is fitted with such exactness that no trouble can arise if any part is broken, for a new piece can be supplied with an assurance of a perfect fit.

The High-Arm Machine is carefully packed and shipped by freight from Chicago.

Freight charges are to be paid at point of delivery by the subscriber.

Give shipping directions plainly, as well as the postoffice address the paper is to be sent to.

☞ The LOS ANGELES DAILY TIMES—Any person desiring the Daily and this Sewing Machine can have the same by mail for $29.

HOW TO ORDER.

When you remit us the $22 for the Machine and WEEKLY MIRROR one year, write plainly the point the machine is to be shipped to, as well as the postoffice the paper is to be sent to. The machine should be ordered to the nearest railroad point where the railroad company has an agent stationed, and the name of railroad station, the county and State should be stated. When $22 are sent for the WEEKLY MIRROR one year and the machine, the freight charges from the factory are to be paid by the subscriber at the point Machine is delivered to.

We would advise subscribers to order machine sent by freight, as the freight charges are about one-third to one-fourth of express charges; and while the time taken in the carrying of the machine is a little longer, they go just as securely and safely as by express. The machines will be shipped direct from the manufactory (Chicago), all set up ready for use. The money must accompany order. Address,

BUSINESS.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
LOS ANGELES, Monday, June 13.

At the Produce Exchange today prices of Poultry were considerably lower than at the close of last week. The rest of the list showed no change of importance.

The recent speculative boom in Coffee has been followed by the usual reaction, and several heavy dealers in New York were forced to the wall. The particulars are given in the telegraph columns.

The Bradstreet Mercantile Agency reports 11 failures in the Pacific Coast States and Territories for the week ending the 10th inst., as compared with 14 for the previous week, and 16 for the corresponding week of 1886. The failures for the past week are divided among the trades as follows: 4 saloons, 4 general merchandise, 1 baker, 1 harness and 1 millinery and fancy goods.

The Grain situation in England is summarized as follows:

LONDON, June 13.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the British Grain trade during the past week, says: "Promising crop prospects have weakened the values of English Wheat, and ample deliveries at the provincial exchanges assisted the fall to the extent of 6d. Sales of English Wheat during the week were 39,614 quarters at 35s. 4d., against 42,936 quarters at 31s. 11d. during the corresponding period last year. Foreign Wheat was so favorably affected toward the close of the week by the belief that a breakdown in the American ring was imminent, the presence of a whole fleet of arrivals off coast and a slackened Continental demand combined, as to cause a drop in quotations. Flour has maintained value. The demand, however, is slackened. Corn is quiet. Thirty Wheat cargoes arrived; nine were sold, five are withdrawn and sixteen remained. At today's market Wheat values of all kinds were against sellers. Flour, Corn and Oats were dull. Linseed was firm at 1s. advance."

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Money on call loaned at from 4@10 per cent., last loan, 5; closed offered, 4½.

Prime mercantile paper, 5@6.

Sterling exchange, dull and steady at 4.81¾ for 60 days; 4 86 for demand.

Government bonds dull and steady.

The stock market was unusually dull today. The leading operators were all out of the city, and the bears had practically no opposition in their attacks upon the weak spots. A failure in the coffee trade had some effect against the market. Western Union, St. Paul and Reading were active, but the active list sagged off under raids upon prices. The close was very dull, at the lowest figures of the day. The active list is lower. The most important declines were Northwestern 1¾, Wheeling and Lake Erie 1¾, Norfolk and Western preferred 1¾, Oregon Transcontinental 1¼, and Omaha 1 per cent.

HYDE PARK!

Look where you will in the vicinity of the city of Los Angeles in search either of lots or acre property, for charming homes, and the best judgments will be convinced at a glance as to the difficulty of finding a location for a town so beautiful, such pure and bracing air, and smooth, rich lands as characterizes Hyde Park. This splendid townsite is located on the line of the California Central, of the A., T. & S. F. system, which is to connect Los Angeles with the new harbor at La Ballona, and is distant 7½ miles from the center of the city; a midway town between the city and the harbor. Trains are to be running through the tract by July next, when great business activity all along the line will be the order of the day. Liberal-sized lots, 60x150 feet, fronting on sixty-foot avenues, are offered and being taken rapidly at $125 each; $40 cash, balance $10 per month, without interest. This price includes water piped to each lot and streets graded. Such terms give the present purchasers a good opportunity to make money in the rising values that must follow the effects of the harbor and railroad developments. Particularly desirable are the 5 and 10 acre villa lots surrounding the town. Conveyances leave the office at 1:30 p.m., to show parties the beautiful property.

To all Subscribers of the

WEEKLY MIRROR!

The price of the WEEKLY MIRROR is $2.00 a year. This book sells for $3.00 in the market. We will furnish both for $2.00. If the book is to be sent out of this office, 15 cents must accompany order to pay postage.

THE BEST PREMIUM OFFERED

By any Paper in the United States.

THE MOST PRACTICAL! THE MOST RELIABLE

Everybody should have a copy of our "FAMILY PHYSICIAN."

This book contains 544 pages; is eight and one-half inches long, six inches wide and two inches thick. It is printed on extra heavy paper and is handsomely bound, with embossed cover and gilt-lettered back.

IT IS DIFFERENT FROM ALL OTHER WORKS OF THE KIND EVER PUBLISHED.

FIRST—It teaches those who have it how to tell what the matter is when some one gets sick. All similar books tell what to do—if you know what the disease is. THIS BOOK TELLS YOU HOW TO RECOGNIZE THE DISEASE, and then what to do for it. No other book published does this.

SECOND—When a person is really attacked by a dangerous disease, it enables you to know the fact, and in such cases its advice is, "Send for a competent physician at once." In all ordinary cases, such as can be cured without a doctor (and most of the ailments to which families are of this kind, if only you could recognize them), it gives full directions for treatment. The point is, that it teaches you the difference between a dangerous and a trifling disease, and tells you when it is necessary and when it is not necessary to call a physician. No other book published does this.

THIRD—It gives separately, and for each disease, the methods used by each of the different "schools of medicine," and in all cases the prescriptions are made by the most eminent men in their respective mode of practice. This makes the work specially suited to the needs of every family, no matter what school of medicine they prefer—the Allopathic, Homeopathic, Hydropathic, Eclectic or Herbal. NO OTHER BOOK PUBLISHED DOES THIS.

WE WILL SHOW YOU HOW IT DOES THIS

If you will call and see us.

Please read these indorsements of distinguished physicians which were sent to the publishers of this grand work:

Having examined the advance sheets of the work entitled "Our Family Physician," I can say that I find it accurate in its descriptions of diseases and reliable in its therapeutical department.
N. F. COOKE, M.D.,
Professor of theory and practice, Hahnemann Medical College.

I hereby certify that I have examined a work entitled "Our Family Physician," and find it to be correct in its diagnosis, and, in my opinion, worthy of the confidence of the public.
H. S. HANN, M.D.

I have examined the advance sheets of "Our Family Physician." It gives me pleasure to recommend the work as correct in its mode of treatment of diseases, and it deserves wide circulation.
J. F. COOKE, M.D.,
Professor in Burnett's Medical College, Chicago.

After examining the publication "Our Family Physician," I can fully indorse the opinions expressed of its merits by the above gentlemen.
R. A. GUNN, M.D.,
Professor of the Burnett Medical College.

The book contains a valuable chapter of symptoms, which will aid wonderfully in diagnosing diseases, and the proper remedies are given for Allopathic, Homeopathic, Eclectic, Hydropathic and Herbal.

Every family should have a guide to health to assist the family doctor. It is not intended to take the place of the doctor in every instance, but to help you do everything possible in his absence.

—:TO OUR OLD SUBSCRIBERS:—

It is customary with newspapers to give premiums to new subscribers only; but the publishers of the MIRROR mean to reverse this old rule; they intend to do as well, at least, by their old subscribers—those who have stood by the paper in years past, and paid their money for it "right straight along." We propose to show our appreciation of these friends in a substantial manner; and as the premium to be offered is expensive, and as our express object in offering it is to increase our list of subscribers, we will ask every old subscriber who may renew his subscription, thus receiving the valuable premium, to constitute himself a missionary, and aid us in securing at least two new subscribers.

THE TIMES-MIRROR CO.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA.

CITY COUNCIL.

IMPORTANT MATTERS BROUGHT UP AT THE MEETING.

Railroad Crossings—Street-Car Business—Fire Hydrants—System of Sewer Proposed—Sale of Bonds.

The City Council met in regular session in City Hall, at 2 o'clock p.m. yesterday, President L. N. Breed in the chair and the following members present: Clerk Teed, Councilmen Goss, Kuhrts, Jones, Gibbs, Percy, Willard, Collins, Lovell, Hiller, Stearns, City Attorney Daly and Mayor Workman.

Minutes of last regular meeting read and approved.

Communications were received and read as follows:

FROM MAYOR WORKMAN.

"To the Honorable the Council of the City of Los Angeles—GENTLEMEN: I desire to call your attention to the importance of opening Los Angeles street from Seventh to Eleventh. Nearly all the lands through which said street would run are held in large bodies, and as they are liable to be subdivided at any time, the opening could now be accomplished at very little expense to the property-owners, and I would recommend your honorable body to take some action in this matter. Respectfully,

"W. H. WORKMAN, Mayor."

Referred to Board of Public Works.

"To the Honorable the Council of the City of Los Angeles—GENTLEMEN: After several interviews with Vice-President C. W. Smith and Judge Brunson, attorney of the California Central Railroad Company, in regard to laying tracks across First street, I have received the accompanying communication from Mr. Smith in regard to the matter. At a subsequent meeting Vice-President Smith proposed paying one-third of the cost of a viaduct along said street, provided the Los Angeles Cable Road Company and the city would pay the remaining two-thirds. The cable road company have since proposed paying one-third of said work, which matter I recommend your honorable body refer to the Board of Public Works, as the erection of a viaduct at this point would forever set at rest any controversy with said railroad company. As switching is a constant menace to life, I would further recommend your honorable body pass an ordinance prohibiting the switching of cars and locomotives or the making up of trains across any of the public streets of this city. Respectfully,

"W. H. WORKMAN, Mayor."

Following is the letter to which reference is made:

CALIFORNIA CENTRAL RAILWAY CO., OFFICE OF VICE-PRESIDENT.

[Subject: First-street Crossing, Los Angeles.]

NATIONAL CITY, June 9, 1887.—Hon. W. H. Workman, Mayor of Los Angeles City, Los Angeles, Cal.—DEAR SIR: Again referring to the subject of locating our tracks across First street, I am pleased to advise you that as soon as our depot grounds are graded, and our yard system of tracks are put in proper condition for use, it is the purpose of this company to have but three permanent tracks crossing First street. And I will further say that the making up of trains and general switching or handling of freight and passenger cars will all be done either south or north of First street. In other words, no switching will be done over First street that can possibly be avoided. And for the further protection of the public and citizens traveling on First street, two sets of automatic gates will be placed, one immediately at the end of First-street bridge, and the other one immediately west of the west track crossing the street, all of which will be put into operation as rapidly as it is possible to do so. Very respectfully yours, C. W. SMITH, Vice-President.

Referred to Board of Public Works.

"To the Honorable the Council of the City of Los Angeles—GENTLEMEN: City Justice Austin has called my attention to the excessive fines imposed for violation of the fire ordinance, leaving no discretion with the City Justice, for violation, for less than $50 fine. I would recommend that said ordinance be amended so that the Justice can exercise his judgment in imposing fines. I would also call your attention to the necessity for extending the limits of Fire District No. 1. Respectfully,

"W. H. WORKMAN, Mayor."

MELANGE.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN AND ABOUT TOWN.

Baliona Harbor Catching On to Business—Improvements to Be Pushed. Lace Thieves—The Courts—Dan Leahy Arrested for Mayhem.

The schooner Albatross, with 11,000 railroad ties, arrived at Baliona yesterday, and will begin unloading today. Several vessels are now en route there, with lumber, ties, piles, etc., and many improvements that have been delayed by the scarcity of building materials will be pushed rapidly forward. The place is attracting more and more attention every day, as its beautiful location and beach become more widely known.

Mesmer's new hotel is to be commenced this week, and several other large buildings will be put under contract as soon as the lumber arrives.

Two immense piers already extend outward a long distance from the shore, and the little tug plies back and forth daily between the lake and the ocean.

The new dredging machine is to be tested on the 1st of July, and will be set to work immediately thereafter.

The greater part of the roadbed is graded between our city and Baliona, and it is expected the cars will be running in a few weeks. At present the trip is made by stage.

MAYHEM.

A Truck Driver Chews Another's Fingers Off.

A few days ago a desperate fight took place at the freight depot between two truckmen named Dan Leahy and Fred Gordon. Gordon kept the matter to himself until yesterday, when he swore out a warrant charging Leahy with mayhem. It seems that during the battle Leahy got hold of Gordon's fingers and chewed one on each hand to the bone. He was arrested by Deputy Constable Hammel and taken before Justice Taney. He pleaded not guilty and his examination was set for the 21st inst., at 10 o'clock a.m.

LACE THIEVES

Who Come Near Capturing Valuable Diamonds.

Another bold robbery took place in this city yesterday morning. A thief, or several of the rascals, entered the cellar under the Maison de Paris, millinery store, at No. 22 West First street, and made their way into the store. They succeeded in getting away with several hundred dollars' worth of laces, but they overlooked a drawer in which several thousand dollars' worth of diamonds, which belonged to Mrs. Deler, were concealed. The police are confident that they belong to the same band that has committed so many depredations during the past few weeks.

WHO IS THE LUCKY MAN?

THIS MEANS YOU.

Here is a Little Speculation that will discount anything in the Market.

Eighty-five acres of choice land, suitable for the successful growing of strawberries of the finest kind, as well as any small fruit or vegetables, in the town of Compton, less than one-half mile from the railroad depot, has been subdivided into sixteen tracts, of which fifteen contain five acres each and one ten acres; 65 acres of it in alfalfa. One of the five-acre tracts has a $2500 house, $500 barn, and the finest artesian well in the land, and is easily worth $4500.

Any one of the five-acre tracts can be so planted as to support any man and his family, and do it well.

These sixteen tracts will be distributed among the sixteen lucky purchasers of the sixteen tickets, now for sale.

Every purchaser gets more than the worth of his money, and, besides, there are

CATARRH!

THROAT DISEASES, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA,

CONSUMPTION,

Together with diseases of the

EYE, EAR AND HEART,

Successfully treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.,

M. C. P. S. O.,

No. 275 North Main Street,

A few doors south of the new postoffice, Los Angeles, Cal.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

This has been demonstrated in thousands of cases treated by

DR. WILLIAMS,

With his new system of Medicated Inhalations combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold; indeed, he declares that he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another, and oet he is always exceedingly careful; it is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of Catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appears, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease, it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing, hoarseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructed the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue, the breath lessens upon a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this time the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years, and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts that he will "by-and-by" recover. But this delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms, as all forms of catarrh end finally in consumption.

Inhalations are applicable in all diseases of the respiratory organs, but must be prepared for each individual case as they severally require.

By the employment of proper inhalation in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surface in the pharnyx and nasal passages, for air will find its way into the most remote and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success.

The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address,
